Message from Dr. Martin:

Check out the web site below. It contains everything from my presentation in ENGR 10 on August 26 I thought you could possibly be interested in reviewing.

Please take a few minutes to listen to at least a few of the speakers. They are more-or-less everyday engineer/cs types who just talk a little about themselves and their fit in the engr/cs world. Again, my hope is that you will grow in your appreciation for the breadth and variety of engr/cs types of professionals and niches available to you.
